Base currency	USD
Benchmark	Dow Jones Sukuk Index The risk profile of this Fund is different from the risk profile of the benchmark.
Investment strategy	To achieve the objective of the Fund, the Manager intends to invest a minimum of 70% of the Fund's NAV in a portfolio of Islamic fixed income instruments issued and/or offered globally, which consists of investment grade Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments that provide regular income. The Manager will also invest a maximum of 30% of the Fund's NAV in Islamic liquid assets. The Fund will invest principally in a portfolio of Islamic fixed income instruments (including non-investment grade securities and unrated securities) including Sukuk al-Ijara and Sukuk al-Wakala issued by government, government-related and corporate entities located globally. We will combine a top-down and bottom-up investment approach to identify investment opportunities. Macroeconomic trends and market analysis are the important considerations in deriving the top-down perspective on profit rate outlook, fixed income markets and currency movements. For its bottom-up approach, we would conduct analysis on the issuer(s) to assess its ability to service its financial obligations. The selection of Sukuk will not be constrained by credit ratings of issuances. However, the selection will depend largely on its quality where the respective issuers display strong ability to meet their financial obligations, healthy cash-flow, the collateral type, value, claims priority as well as offer highest safety for timely payment of profit and principal. The Fund will also have the flexibility to hold exposure in Islamic collective investment schemes that have a similar investment objective to the Fund. Foreign Investments The Fund may invest in investments listed or issued in foreign markets. The decision to invest into foreign markets will be opportunistically driven where we would seek out investments that could provide a potential to enhance the returns of the Fund. The Fund will invest only into countries which are eligible markets.

Classes	USD Class	SGD Class	MYR Class	MYR-Hedged Class
	Islamic Derivatives The Fund may employ Islamic derivatives, such as Islamic cross currency swaps, Islamic profit rate swaps and other Islamic derivatives that are certified by the SC or Shariah Adviser for hedging purposes. These instruments may be used to hedge the principal and/or the returns of the foreign-currency denominated investments back to the USD. Islamic profit rate swaps could be used by the Manager to hedge the profit rate exposure of the Fund by mitigating the potential decline in the price of the Fund's Sukuk investment due to the inverse relationship between yields and prices in a rising profit rate environment. While the hedging strategy will assist with mitigating the potential foreign exchange losses by the Fund, any potential foreign exchange gains from the hedging strategy will be capped as well. The employment of Islamic derivatives under these circumstances is expected to reduce the impact of foreign currency movements on the Fund's NAV. The Fund adopts commitment approach to measure the Fund's global exposure to Islamic derivatives. The commitment approach is a methodology that aggregates the underlying market values or notional values of Islamic derivatives after taking into account the possible effects of netting and/or hedging arrangements. The Fund's global exposure from the Islamic derivatives position must not exceed 100% of NAV of the Fund at all times. Temporary Defensive Position We hold the option to take temporary defensive positions that may be inconsistent with the Fund's principal strategy and asset allocation to protect the Fund against adverse market conditions that may impact the financial markets. To manage the risk of the Fund, we may shift the Fund's assets to be temporarily invested in Islamic money market instruments and/or Islamic deposits.

KEY RISKS

6. What are the key risks associated with this product?

General risks

- Market risk – Market risk arises because of factors that affect the entire marketplace. Factors such as economic growth, political stability and social environment are some examples of conditions that have an impact on businesses, whether positive or negative. Market risk cannot be eliminated by diversification. It stems from the fact that there are economy-wide perils, or instances of political or social instability which threaten all businesses. Hence, the Fund will be exposed to market uncertainties and no matter how many Shariah-compliant securities are held, fluctuations in the economic, political and social environment will affect the market price of the Shariah-compliant investments either in a positive or negative way.
- Fund management risk – This risk refers to our day-to-day management of the Fund which will impact the performance of the Fund. For example, our investment decisions as a result of an incorrect view of the market or any non-compliance with internal policies, investment mandate, the Deed, relevant law or guidelines due to factors such as human error, fraud, dishonesty or weaknesses in operational process and systems, may adversely affect the performance of the Fund.
- Performance risk – The performance of the Fund depends on the financial instruments that the Fund purchases. If the instruments do not perform within expectation or if there is a default, then, the performance of the Fund will be impacted negatively. The performance of the Fund may also be impacted if the allocation of assets is not properly done. This is where the experience and expertise of the fund managers are important and the risk of the lack of experience and expertise of the fund managers has been highlighted above. On that basis, there is never a guarantee that investing in the Fund will produce the desired investment return or the distribution of income.
- Inflation risk – This is the risk that your investment in the Fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation. This would reduce your purchasing power even though the value of the investment in monetary terms has increased.
- Financing risk – This risk occurs when you take a financing to finance your investment. The inherent risk of investing with financed money includes you being unable to service the financing payments. In the event Units are used as collateral, you may be required to top-up your existing instalment if the prices of Units fall below a certain level due to market conditions. Failing which, the Units may be sold at a lower Net Asset Value per Unit as compared to the Net Asset Value per Unit at the point of purchase towards settling the financing.
- Operational risk – This risk refers to the possibility of a breakdown in our internal controls and policies. The breakdown may be a result of human error, system failure or fraud where our employees collude with one another. This risk may cause monetary loss and/or inconvenience to you. We will regularly review our internal policies and system capability to mitigate this risk. Additionally, we maintain a strict segregation of duties to mitigate instances of fraudulent practices amongst our employees.
- Liquidity risk – Liquidity risk refers to two scenarios. The first is where an investment cannot be sold due to unavailability of a buyer for that investment. The second scenario exists where the investment, by its nature, is thinly traded. This will have the effect of causing the investment to be sold below its fair value which would adversely affect the NAV of the Fund and subsequently the value of Unit Holders' investments in the Fund.

- Suspension of repurchase request risk – Having considered the best interests of Unit Holders, the repurchase requests by the Unit Holders may be subject to suspension due to exceptional circumstances, where the market value or fair value of a material portion of the Fund's assets cannot be determined. In such case, Unit Holders will not be able to redeem their Units and will be compelled to remain invested in the Fund for a longer period of time*. Hence, their investments will continue to be subject to the risks inherent to the Fund.

* For further information on repurchase process during suspension period, please refer to "What is the Repurchase Proceeds Payout Period" section of the Prospectus.

- Related Party Transaction Risk – The Fund may also have dealings with parties related to AHAM. Nevertheless, it is our policy that all transactions with related parties are to be executed on terms which are best available to the Fund and which are not less favourable to the Fund than an arm's length transaction between independent parties.

Specific risks

- Sukuk investment risk – The buying and selling of Sukuk carry a number of risks, the most important being the volatility of the capital markets on which those securities are traded and the general insolvency risk associated with the issuers of Sukuk. Price changes in Sukuk are influenced predominantly by profit rate developments in the capital markets, which in turn are influenced by macro-economic factors. As a result, the Fund's portfolio performance may be affected by significant changes of such factors. In managing Sukuk investment risk, the Manager will actively monitor market developments and may make necessary adjustments to the portfolio should needs arise. The price changes also depend on the term or residual time to maturity of the Sukuk. In general, Sukuk with shorter terms have less price risks than Sukuk with longer terms.
- Credit and default risk – Credit risk relates to the creditworthiness of the issuers of the investment (Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments and the Financial Institutions where the Islamic deposits are placed) and their expected ability to make timely payment of profit and/or principal. Any adverse situations faced by the issuer and/or Financial Institution may impact the value as well as liquidity of the investment. In the case of rated investments, this may lead to a credit downgrade. Default risk relates to the risk of an issuer and/or a Financial Institution of the investment either defaulting on payments or failing to make payments in a timely manner which will in turn adversely affect the value of the investment. This could adversely affect the value of the Fund.
- High yield Sukuk risk – The Fund may invest in high yield Sukuk which are subject to greater credit risk than investment grade securities. Generally lower rated Sukuk pay higher yields than higher rated Sukuk to compensate investors for the reduced creditworthiness or higher risk of default that these Sukuk carry.
- Profit rate risk – Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments are subject to profit rate fluctuations. Generally, movement in profit rates affects the prices of Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments inversely, for example, when profit rates rise, prices of Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments will fall. The fluctuations of the prices of the Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments will also have an impact on the NAV of the Fund. This risk can largely be eliminated by holding the Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments until their maturity. The Manager also manages profit rate risk by considering each Sukuk's or Islamic money market instruments' sensitivity to profit rate changes. When profit rates are expected to increase, the Fund would then likely seek to switch to Sukuk or Islamic money market instruments that are less sensitive to profit rate changes. For investments into Islamic deposits, the fluctuations in the profit rates will not affect the placement of Islamic deposits but will result in the opportunity loss by the Fund if the placement of Islamic deposits is made at lower profit rate.

(Note: Profit rate is a general indicator that will have an impact on the management of the Fund regardless of whether it is an Islamic fund or otherwise. It does not in any way suggest that this Fund will invest in conventional financial instruments).

- Currency risk – As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the Base Currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Base Currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. You should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment.

Currency risk at the Class level

The impact of the exchange rate movement between the Base Currency and the currency of the respective Class (other than USD Class) may result in a depreciation of your holdings as expressed in the Base Currency.

- Reinvestment risk – This risk arises when an issuer of Sukuk decides to repay the principal earlier than the intended maturity date or when payment of profit from Islamic money market instruments is reinvested at a profit rate lower than the prevailing profit rate when the investment was initially made, especially during times of declining profit rate environment. As a result, the Fund may experience lower returns due to reinvesting in lower yielding Sukuk. The Manager will mitigate this risk by closely monitoring the profit rate movements and take measures which will not be limited to reduce the Fund's exposure into such investments.
- Country risk – Investments of the Fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which the Fund invests in. For example, the deteriorating economic condition of such countries may adversely affect the value of the investments undertaken by the Fund in those affected countries. This in turn may cause the NAV of the Fund or prices of Units to fall.

- Emerging market risk – Investing in emerging markets subjects the Fund to a higher level of market risk than investments in a developed country. This is due to, amongst other things, greater market volatility, lower trading volume, political and economic instability, settlement risk, greater risk of market shut down and more governmental limitations on foreign investment than those typically found in developed markets. The Manager will attempt to mitigate all these risks through its active asset allocation management and diversification, in addition to its continuous bottom up and top down research and analysis.
- Distribution out of capital risk – The Fund may distribute income out of capital. Such capital distributions represent a return or withdrawal of part of the amount of your original investment and/or capital gains attributable to the original investment and will result in a reduction in the NAV per Unit of the Classes and reduce the capital available for future investment and capital growth. Future capital growth may therefore be constrained.

Note: Please refer to the Fund's Prospectus for further details on the general and specific risks.

It is important to note that events affecting the investments cannot always be foreseen. Therefore, it is not possible to protect investments against all risks. You are recommended to read the whole Prospectus to assess the risks associated with the Fund. If necessary, you should consult your professional adviser(s) for a better understanding of the risks.
